in science and christianity conflict or coherence dr henry f schaefer s university lectures have been expanded to full length essays thus we have a first hand account of the lively current science christianity discussions by one of the major participants science and christianity describes why and how dr schaefer became a christian as a young professor of chemistry at the university of california at berkeley throughout the book retains the highly personal character of the university lectures general respect for those with whom the author disagrees and a delightful sense of humor the industry of manufacturing the word of god was in vogue in ancient times when religion was the most powerful institution in society the elite whenever they wanted to convince people of something to further their economic gain used religion this not only distorted and ruined the genuine words of god it created mischief and corruption in society which ultimately got blamed on religion it was not religion but pseudo religion and constructed books like books in the bible which got institutionalized and caused great harm and injustice to humanity the koran coming to reform such a world presented itself as a criterion to distinguish true from false koran 2 185 based on the principles of science and rationality it termed nature as being the reflection of god s will sunna in arabic and made the careful analysis of nature and contemplation based on it a duty incumbent upon every believer koran 3 190 195 the history of modern science began with the koran muslims inspired by the koran did pioneering foundation building work in all fields of modern science thus sparking the european renaissance an account of personal experiences may be interesting for one or two reasons 1 because the writer is in some way remarkable 2 because not being at all remarkable he may be able to set forth in a concrete way the experience of a considerable body of men it is for the latter reason if at all that the present little sketch may justify its place in the volume of which it is to form a part i have been asked to contribute to the volume i suppose in order that i may show by the example of my own very imperfect but for that reason all the more typical experience how it is that a considerable number of persons have been led to resist the current of the age and to hold with mind and heart to that religion of supernatural redemption which has always hitherto been known as christianity in the pursuance of this task however i shall not seek to distinguish those elements in my experience which are peculiar from those which i share with others but shall simply set forth certain observations of mine in the concrete in the hope that here and there they may by way of example shed some light upon something less unimportant than they are in themselves it seems to me even with that explanation to be rather a presumptuous undertaking but the responsibility is the editor s not mine if the question be asked how it has come about that contrary to the majority of the men of our day i am a believer in the truth of the bible and an adherent of the redemptive religion which the bible presents the answer will be found to a far greater extent than in any other one place in the home in baltimore in which in company with my brothers arthur w machen jr and thomas machen i was brought up my father who died in 1915 at the age of eighty eight and my mother who died in 1931 at the age of eighty two were both christians from them i learned what christianity is and how it differs from certain modern substitutes i also learned that christian conviction can go hand in hand with a broad outlook upon life and with the pursuit of learning offering an authoritative study of the plural religious landscape in modern syria and of the diverse christian and muslim communities that have cohabited the country for centuries this volume considers a wide range of cultural religious and political issues that have impacted the interreligious dynamic putting them in their local and wider context combining fieldwork undertaken within government held areas during the syrian conflict with critical historical and christian theological reflection this research makes a significant contribution to understanding syria s diverse religious landscape and the multi layered expressions of christian muslim relations it discusses the concept of sectarianism and how communal dynamics are crucial to understanding syrian society the complex wider issues that underlie the relationship are examined including the roles of culture and religious leadership and it questions whether the analytical concept of sectarianism is adequate to describe the complex communal frameworks in the middle eastern context finally the study examines the contributions of contemporary eastern christian leaders to interreligious discourse concluding that the theology and spirituality of eastern christianity inhabiting the same cultural environment as islam is uniquely placed to play a major role in interreligious dialogue and in peace making the book offers an original contribution to knowledge and understanding of the changing christian muslim dynamic in syria and the region it should be a key resource to students scholars and readers interested in religion current affairs and the middle east against the scholarly consensus that assumes early christians were involved in a rivalry for converts with contemporary jews this book shows that the target of patristic writers was rather a symbolic judaism and their aim was to define theologically the young church s identity in identifying and categorizing the hypotheses put forward by modern scholars to defend their view of a jewish christian conflict this book demonstrates how current theories have generated faulty notions about the perceptions and motivations of ancient christians and jews beyond its relevance to students of the early church this book addresses the broader question of christian responsibility for modern anti semitism it shows how the focus on a supposedly social rivalry obscures the depth and disquieting nature of the connections between early anti judaism and christian identity here is a book so contemporary in its message and so accurate in its estimation of the present age that one incredulously learns this work was authored in 1898 of course there is only one explanation samuel j andrews knew the timeless and inerrant word of god christianity and anti christianity is essential reading for those who seek the past the present and the future of the world conflict there is no wild sensationalism here just authoritative objectivity the perplexing events of our time are made clear when examined in the light of scripture there is order in disorder there is supernatural warfare directing the struggle between the nations there will be a victor and the vanquished apart from an understanding of this supernatural conflict it is not possible for the christian to evaluate intelligently his responsibility and act upon it bob jones university press reprints this volume as an aid for all those who desire to rightly divide the word of truth back cover divide and rule seems to be satan s policy in his attacks on the church today but why does he have to be so successful this booklet takes a helpful look at the problems christians face in getting on with one another
