the securing of the spiritual comforts of believers in this life is a matter of the highest importance unto the glory of god and their own advantage by the gospel writes the great puritan john owen for god is abundantly willing that all the heirs of promise should receive strong consolation and he has provided ways and means for the communication of it to them and their participation of it is their principal interest in this world and is so esteemed by them but their effectual refreshing enjoyment of these comforts is variously opposed by the power of the remainders of sin in conjunction with other temptations hence notwithstanding their right and title unto them by the gospel they are ofttimes actually destitute of a gracious sense of them and consequently of that relief which they are suited to afford in all their duties trials and afflictions now the root whereon all real comforts do grow whence they spring and arise is true and saving faith the faith of god s elect wherefore they do ordinarily answer unto and hold proportion with the evidences which any have of that faith in themselves at least they cannot be maintained without such evidences wherefore that we may be a little useful unto the establishment or recovery of that consolation which god is so abundantly willing that all the heirs of promise should enjoy i shall inquire what are the principal acts and operations of faith whereby it will evidence its truth and sincerity in the midst of all temptations and storms that may befall believers in this world and i shall insist on such alone as will bear the severest scrutiny by scripture and experience this puritan classic includes the following chapters introduction i how does saving faith approve of this way on what accounts and unto what ends ii the second evidence of the faith of god s elect iii the third evidence of the faith of god s elect iv the fourth evidence of the faith of god s elect
